

10th Bn GOC
MILITARY ORGANIZATION
THE COMPANY LEVEL OF GOC

There many types of companies in the army, but we will spend most of our time studying the rifle company since it is the basic unit. However we will take a close look at the artillery battery, the tank company, and the heavy weapons company.

THE RIFLE COMPANY

MISSION: To close with the enemy and capture or destroy him by means of fire and maneuver; or to repel his assault by fire or close combat.

CAPABILITIES: 1. Closing with the enemy and destroying him, using fire and maneuver. 2. Repelling enemy assaults by EFMV fire, close combat, or counterattack. 3. Maneuvering in all types of terrain and climatic conditions. 4. Furnishing a base of fire and maneuver. 5. Seizing and holding ground.

To accomplish the above the company is given 6 officers and 190 men. In addition it is given a variety of weapons such as:

29 Carbines	3 57 MM Recoilless Rifles
6 Light machine guns	30 45 Cal Pistols
1 50 Cal MG	18 Automatic Rifles
3 Rocket launchers	110 M1 Rifles
3 60 MM Mortars	9 Scope Mounted Sniper Rifles

The company also has a variety of equipment such as:

- 4 Jeeps
- 1 2 1/2 ton Truck
- 18 Hand short wave Radios
- 2 Pack short wave Radios

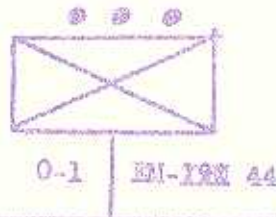

Now we must see how the men and materials are put together to make a fighting team. First lets look at the rifle squad again

THE RIFLE SQUAD

3 Squad Leader	SFC	Rifle
1 Ast Squad Leader	Sgt	Rifle
2 Automatic Riflemen	PFC WOPPEL	Automatic Rifle
4 Riflemen	PFC	Rifle
1 Sniper	PFC	Rifle with a scope

Remember that EFMV three such rifle squads plus a Machine gun squad and a small headquarters make a platoon. Turn the page and we will look at the platoon in detail.

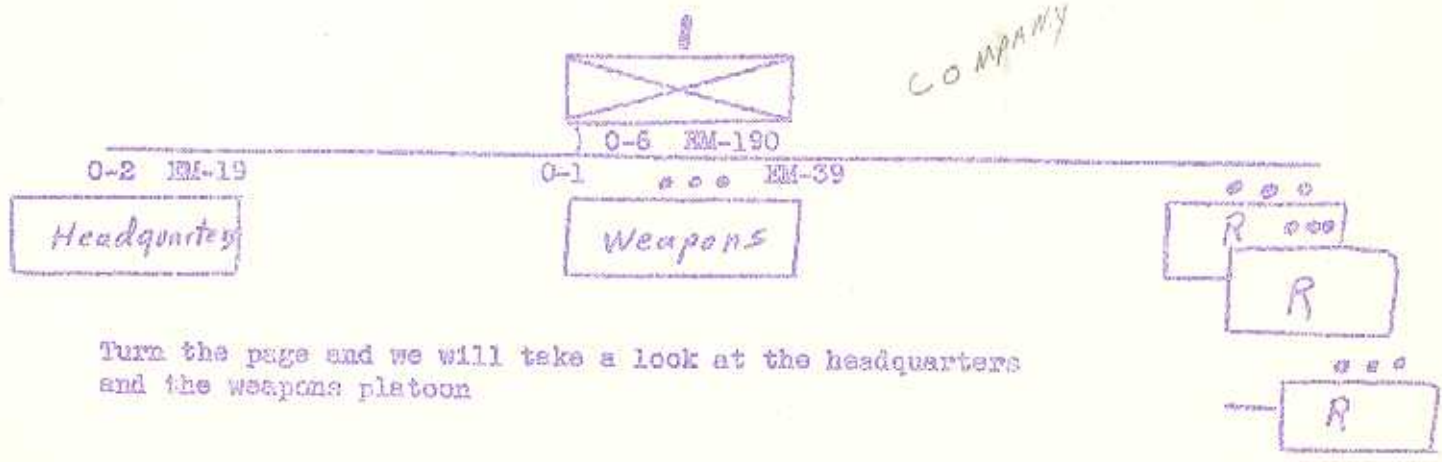

THE RIFLE PLATOON

PLATOON

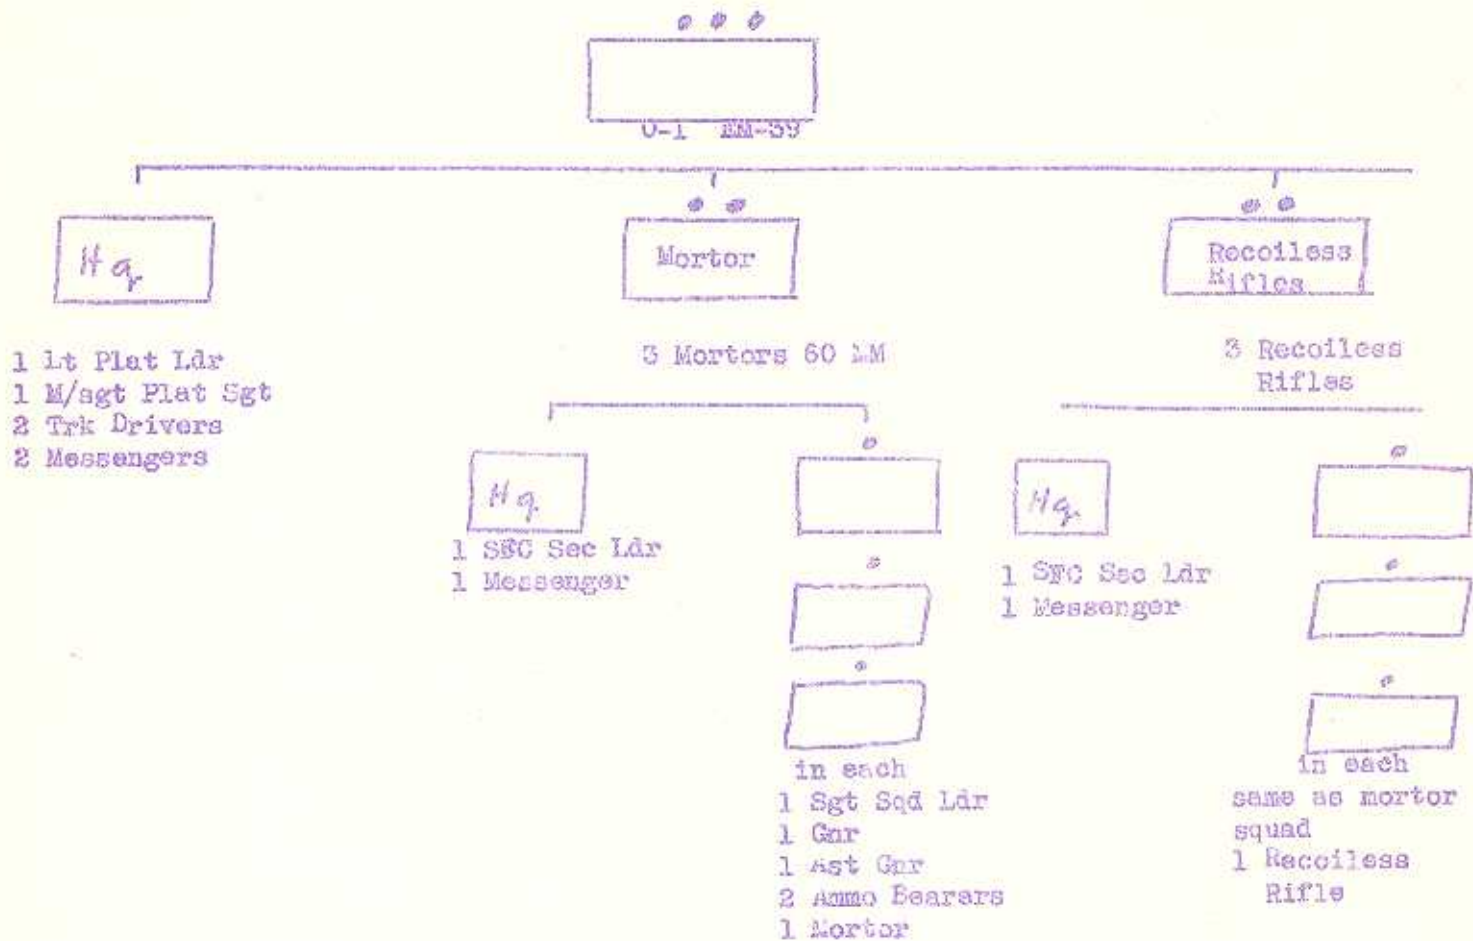

Three rifle platoons plus a weapons platoon plus a headquarters form a company. Here is how the whole company looks.

Company Headquarters

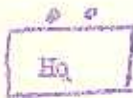

The company headquarters in any company contain the housekeeping support of that company. That is it contains those personnel necessary to feed, clothe, administer, and maintain the company. Thus the headquarters has supply, mess, maintenance, and administrative personnel whose normal duties are not fighting. Oh yes and the company Hq also has communication personnel. The company headquarters of an a rifle company contains 19 men.

Now let's turn the page and look at some of the other combat companies.
